Average Applications
October 2009 - September 2010

The average time to process an application is approximately 90 days. Therefore, the number of applications completed/processed in a given month may exceed the number of applications received based on the DMWBD's ability to process applications received in prior months.

 This number includes incomplete and out-of-state applications.

• The agency developed a more accurate data analysis and collection system for data beginning in August; previous data reflects the old, less accurate system.
